

The Trust's Grantmaking Framework: From Application to Decision

Applicant completes eligibility quiz and submits application through the grant management system (GMS).

Application is assigned to program staff and the following standard is used to determine if the application will move forward.

If there is alignment, program staff sets an appointment to meet with the applicant to complete the review section of the application and document in GMS.
Program team reviews the completed applications and awards funds based on the following:

When all criteria are met and funding is granted, the award and reporting process begins.
